DESCRIPTION

The Getting Ahead class structure is unique in its layout and purpose. It is not the typical format of teacher and student but rather a structure of community. It is a safe place to share life, encourage change and cultivate growth.

The content of the curriculum consists of practical information such as budget techniques and community resources; with a significant portion focusing on self-assessments and the development of personal resources. (i.e. financial, emotional, physical and spiritual)

The goal of the class is for each student to gain necessary knowledge that you can apply to your life as you envision and live out a more positive and stable future story. The outcomes from attending a class vary with each attendee. You will establish attainable goals to work toward, and apply knowledge learned to gradually move from instability to stability. However, the greatest outcome is one that cannot be measured and that is, the relationships built that support and feel like family.

CLASS STRUCTURE

Getting Ahead sessions are held in a safe, agenda-free and respectful setting. This is a 15 week program that meets once a week in a group of 6-12 participants for 2 1/2 hours. Prior to the beginning of each class, a meal is provided and childcare is available.

The curriculum focuses on economic and cultural issues in the community. Each person will investigate and examine financial instability and the conditions for being successful by creating mental models while covering the Getting Ahead workbook that is provided.

This program forms relationships between the participants (investigators) and the community at all levels.

It provides “HOPE”
for YOUR future!
