“Homeless to Housing”

Families with Children, Seniors & Disabled Adults

The Homeless to Housing (H2H) Project is a partnership between local government and Cooperative Christian Ministry (CCM) to establish new transitional housing capacity that will help individuals and families experiencing homelessness and housing crisis, to achieve stable housing. The H2H Project seeks to purchase and develop property to address the housing crisis in Cabarrus County by implementing CCM's Path to Stability housing model.

PROGRAM DESIGN:

In addition to creating new housing capacity, this solution will:

- Provide safety, nutrition and access to health, academic, employment, and spiritual supports.
- Incorporate education and training services into a structured transitional housing program.
- Overcome barriers preventing access to vital resources for household / financial sustainability.
- Operate within the principles and values of affirmation, accountability, personal responsibility and perseverance.

Housing recovery requires Education & Support Services to address the barriers to stable housing:

- Assist overcoming debt and credit issues
- Overcome background issues; to include employment opportunities
- Provide safety for those with disabilities while waiting to access Permanent Supportive Housing
- Create financial stability and progress to affordable housing

PROGRAM OUTCOMES:

Debt Reduction	Employment	Family Stability	Academic Stability
Credit Score Improvement	Savings Account	Healthy Lifestyle	Nutrition Habits
Established Transportation	Financial Education	Childcare	Healthcare Resources
Personal Responsibility	Life Skills	Social Connectivity

PROJECT IMPACT:

The greatest impact for our community is in the well-being of our children and families. Household stability, family supports and healthy nutrition powerfully impact physical, cognitive and behavioral development in young children. These influences prepare a child’s body, mind and spirit for their greatest potential. Their ability to participate and excel in school will empower them and inspire their parents to pursue a path that supports stable housing and healthy lifestyles.

Perhaps our greatest obligation is to those who have contributed to community for many years and have found themselves vulnerable in their later seasons of life. Increasingly, senior adults in our community find themselves suddenly alone and without adequate resources to maintain housing. At full capacity, this facility and program will serve 180-220 adults and children, which represents approximately half (50%) of the current level of need for these populations.
